Call for Papers – The Peptide Conference 2012

Dear Colleague,

avakado media is inviting speakers to present papers at The Peptide Conference 2012 taking place from April 17-18, 2012 at Chilford Hall Conference Centre, Cambridge, UK.

Papers are invited from industry and academe covering the following main areas:

- Biochemistry of peptides
- Peptides as analytical tools
- Peptides as diagnostics
- Peptide structure and drug discovery
- Therapeutic peptides: development strategies
- Therapeutic peptides: late-stage and commercial developments
- Synthesis and manufacturing technologies
- Peptide drug delivery

Speakers are encouraged to present papers describing new work in these fields, with an emphasis on practical applications of technologies for peptide drug and diagnostics discovery and development.

Delegates who will benefit from attending the conference are senior R&D scientists, managers and decision makers from pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies looking to develop new peptide analytics, therapeutics and diagnostics and efficiently and economically manufacture new peptide products.

If you are interested in being part of a top-quality line-up at this excellent venue and speaking at the conference, please send your abstract for review by August 26, 2011. Submissions should include the title of the paper, a 200-word abstract, plus your title, name, position and company or academic affiliation.

For further information on either presenting a paper or attending the conference as a delegate contact Tom Mulligan, Conference Director, avakado media.
